Closing the Loop from Last Meeting

October's Focus

- Dissecting the Introduction and Community Based Indicators sections of the Biennial Report.
- Facilitating a feedback session to better understand the report's impact and identify key areas for improvement.

What is a new practice that has worked well for you this year?

Biennial Report Update

The cover features a collage of four images: a wind turbine against a sunset sky in the top-left, a river with rapids and rocks in the top-right, a utility worker in a bucket on a power line in the bottom-left, and solar panels under a bright orange sunset in the bottom-right. A blue map of Oregon is centered over the collage.

Engagement Space Feedback

During the previous review cycle, we heard feedback across two categories.

Clarity of the report

- Help clarify LC82 and its impact on this report
- Provide a 1-2 page summary of the report
- Better define the purpose and add intentionality to the report
- Include a what the Company has learned from the Tribal Nations group, what has worked well, and challenges faced

Changes made:

- Created an adapted summary to reflect the elements requested by advisors

Opportunities to include additional topics

- A glossary to help make it easier to navigate
- Inclusions of additional technical topics
- Additional data tables to tell the story
- Information on topics such as rates, wildfires, etc.
- Adding a dedicated space for Tribal Nations and interested parties

Changes made:

- Glossary added to define acronyms and energy specific terms

Additional feedback?

Next steps

Dec 19 & 20

Facilitate final iterative feedback sessions with engagement spaces on biennial report

Dec 23

Remaining feedback cataloged and/or incorporated and finalize internal reviews

Dec 30

Submit final report to the PUC

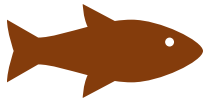

2024 Reflections

Clean Energy Plan Engagement Series for Oregon Tribal Nations

Diving into the details and intersectionality of clean energy planning with topics including:

- Clean Energy Plan (CEP)
- Community Based Renewable Energy (CBRE)
- Community Benefits + Impacts Advisory Group (CBIAG)
- Distribution System Planning (DSP)
- Integrated Resource Plan (IRP)
- Resiliency
- Community Benefit Indicators (CBIs)

- Initiated in March 2023 after direct outreach to Tribal representatives
- Running parallel to the CBIAG, the Tribal Nations Engagement series was developed by conducting direct outreach to Oregon Tribal Nations representatives who sought an engagement space that recognized the nuances that Tribal Nations face
- Creation of PacifiCorp's first Tribal Liaison in 2023, offering another layer of leadership and guidance to support continued growth in this space
- Based in respect for the sovereign Tribal governments and as a way to better understand each Tribe's concerns and perspectives
- Compensation provided, similarly to the CBIAG, to facilitate involvement and to recognize importance of the time spent providing these perspectives
- Invited in September 2024 for an onsite, marking strides in trust building and value to participants

Engagement tools

Pacific Power has been creating a variety of tools to help members participate in the Tribal Nations Engagement Series. We'd like to review and discuss how we might improve these tools as we'd like to use them again next year.

Pre-meeting

- The updated list of all meetings and web links ahead of time
- Pre-reads the Monday before a meeting

During meeting

- Check in questions to get the meeting started
- Recap of previous meeting
- Preview of upcoming meetings
- Post-event survey

Post-meeting

- Notes from the session
- Slides from the session
- Access to the feedback tracker

All of this content is in a new hub on Pacific Power's website: Oregon Clean Energy Plan

Engagement 2025 at a Glance

Engagement Space Considerations for 2025

There were a significant number of engagement spaces in 2024 across a variety of topics (CBIAG, Tribal Nations Engagement, Integrated Resource Planning, Clean Energy Planning, Distribution Systems Planning, Wildfire, etc.)

Pacific Power is dedicated to supporting Tribal Nations and community organizations focused on Tribal issues, ensuring their active participation in Oregon's engagement opportunities.

To accomplish this, we will:

- Aim to streamline Tribal Nations meetings when other engagements occur throughout the month (i.e. combine meetings, or move to a virtual activity)
- Work with Tribal Nations members to ensure they feel comfortable participating in the other engagement spaces, potentially even creating pre-reads or other tools
- Provide opportunity to debrief on other engagement spaces within Tribal Nations meetings
